Miss Eliza Logan.

This gifted lady, who now stands at the head o the list of American actresses, is playing an engagement in Memphis. We believe she goes thence to New Orleans where she will appear at Crisp's Gaiety. We trust Mr. Crisp will not fail to effect an engagement for this city also. It has been several years since Miss Logan played here, and her numerous friends are anxious to see and hear her again. They have watched with eager interest her steady progress in her profession, and now that she has attained a position whence she can contemplate with just pride and exvitation her successful triumph over all obstacles, they desire to manifest to ber their high appreciation of the matured actress. They admired and were proud of her as a girl; they admire and are all the more proud of her

NASHVILLE JOURNAL OF MEDICINE AND SURGE-RY .- The December number of the above periodical has been laid upon our table.

A LOCOMOTIVE LAYING ITS OWN TRACK,-At Moscow, lately, curiosity was excited by an experiment made with a new description of locomotive running along the streets, and so constructed as to cause the wheels to lay down a sort of wooden rail as they advanced. The locomotive dragged after it a number of cars heavily laden. The experiment, though the first made, had perfeetly succeeded. The author of the invention is a trader of Moscow named Prokhoroff.

Gen. W. T. Haskell was expected to arrive at home in Memphis last Monday.

Our former fellow-citizen Gen. B. F. McGe-HRE, was in the city on a visit yesterday, looking in "fine feather." The democratic atmosphere of Franklin county don't hurt him at all.

EAST TENNESSEE AND VIRGINIA RAILBOAD.—We have received a correspondence relative to the recent failure of the East Tennessee and Virginia polats made we briefly reply, as follows: Railroad Company to pay the interest on bonds of the Company endorsed by the State, and will publish it in to-morrow's PATRIOT.

Yesterday was a beautiful day for long & Baker Machine, if used constantly, will soon waste thread skirts. But few of the fair were out, and most them took advantage of the occasion to "gather up"? mud enough to last them, we should think, the bulance of the year. Some of the dear creatures, Machine for making fine clothing, and "capable of doing however, di in't get any; they, like cousin Sally all kinds of work, from the finest cambric to the heavie t Dillard's kinswoman, just "gathered up" their dry goods, an waded. A Sweet Letter from a Sweet Woman, The working men of Sheffield, England, baving | to receive orders for intimated to Miss FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE their intention of presenting to her a set of table cutlery the following characteristic reply:-

I am exceedingly sorry to have allowed your letter to remain so long unanswered, but my occupations have of late been so pressing that it has been unavoidable. The proposal which your letter contains is peculiarly gratifying to me as coming from a place, connected with which I have associations that will always be dear to me; and I should at once frankly accept the offered kindness if I could secure one point, which would be ess utial to | Book Sellers, Book-Binders and Blank my comfort in so doing, viz, that the amount of subscriptions should be fixed on a scale which could not possibly prove burdensome to any one. It is not for me to dictate, but I shall be greatly obliged to you, if possible, to press this point, and to sesure my friends that it is not a splendid specimen of what I already know Sheffi ld can accomplish that would be gratifying to me, but merely a token and the simpler the better, of good will and sympathy from a body in whose welfare I shall always feel an especial interest. So strong was my feeling on this point that my first impulse on receiving the proposal was to request that those who had this kind thought would content themselves by simply appending their names to a testimony of good will; and could this be so, I should be more than satisfied. But this I must leave for others to

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

ABROGATION OF A VENERATED LEGAL PRINCIPLE. -That of principle of English law which says that 'no man shall be put twice in j opardy for the same offence"-a principle that dates beyond the days of Alfred-has been abondoned. The Law Times, a periodical published in London, in noticing the verdict of a recent criminal trial save: "The courts have gradually restricted the meaning of this once cherished maxim, until, in the case now under consideration, it has been reduced to a nullity. We are not prepared to say whether such a result is desirable, or if it is not for the public advantage that persons accused of crime should be subjected to continual trials until a conviction is obtained. Our present purpose is merely to record the fact of the annihilation of another of the famous old maxims of our jurisprudence, in the hope that the spirit and letter of the law may be brought into agreement, and that one impartial rule may be applied to all offenders."

A CALICO PARTY .- The Boston Transcript thus described one "of the most recherche parties of the season," which came off recently at the residence of a retired merchant prince, in S-- street:

"A sine qua non to the invited guests was the gentlemen in their summer coats, and most faithfully did each sex carry out their portion of the programme; and a more tastefully arrayed par ty of fair demoiselles rarely meets the eye than was here congregated. Upon their heads were resettes and pendants of the varied bued pro- CYCLOPIDIA OF AMERICAN ducts of Lowell, Manchester and Providence. At early evening dancing was commenced, beneath the light of one burner in each chandelier, to the Parliamentary, by the most eminent orators of America, music of the piano, at which the ladies sliernated, with biographical sketches and illustrative notes. It will and was kept up with unabated vigor, relieved by contain many which have never before been included in occasional charace performances, till supper any collection, and are not readily accessible to the stutime; and here the genius of the host in confor n- | dent or the general reaser, ing to the times, added mirth to the already happy party. The spacious dining-room was thrown open, and displayed a table, set forth, not with costly plate, but the fruits of the burvest instead. In the centre, upon an inverted tin pail, nicely draped, stood a golden pun pkin, from whose cyas and nose and month, beamed forth a mellow light, relieved by the "dips" which accreed the corners, well secured in goo by turnips. Yellow dishes of lases gingerbread yielding their toothsome stores, and Cochituate ale dispensed from stone pitchers of the true grandma pattern, in mugs of delf ware, enhanced the relish for renewed Terpsichorean agility." Such a magnificent display of luxurious poverty is all very well for one evening and for sport-to a sort of masquerading frolic. But if these elegant ladies and gentlemen who indulge in such rare shows, were compelled to dress thus at all times, at home and abroad, a louder and more heart-rending complaint squinst "nothing to wear" would ascend from the midst of Snobdom than even the moving appeal, the Miss Flora McFlittseys have already sent forth.

We would call particular attention to Mr. Mc-Lean's notice in another column. We add the folown immediate observation, and can wouch for its efficacy and worth. It is an article which should be kept constantly in every family, as it is certainly an invaluable medicine. STEAMBOAT AND RIVER NEWS.

The river is still rising at this point, and, judging from the quantity of rain which has fallen since Monday, is likely to continue for several days to come. Those parts of the city subject to overflow are being rapidly submerged. The temperature of the weather yesterday was mild and spring-like. The Cuba is the only arrival since Monday. She and the Tempest are the only departures.

The great scarcity of freight has caused the reater number of our steamboats to "tie up" for better times. We hope they may soon come.

New ORLEANS PACKET .- By reference to our adv rtising columns it will be seen that the Steamer J. H. Lucas, with that experienced steam soutsman, H. G. McConas in command, has entered the Nashville and New Orleans trade for the s ason, The Lucas left Memphis for New Orleans on the 5th inst., and will leave the latter city for Nashwille on Saturday next, the 12th inst. She will arrive-barring accidents-in time to leave on return trip on Monday, Dec. 21. The Lucas s one of the finest and fastest boats on the Western waters, having for several months past been a regular packet between St. Louis and New Orlean .

By dispatch we learn the Sallie West left St. Louis last night for this city. Should the weather prove favorable she will arrive on Thursday, but from present appearances she cannot confidently be expected before Friday. On arrival she will leave immediately on return trip.

The Ella will leave St. Louis this evening for [Reports Furnished by the Associated Press.] ABSTRACT OF THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 .- The President in his message says, that owing to the monetary derangenent of the country a Government loan may be equired before the close of the present session. The financial history of the last forty years is one of extravagant expansions in business, followed by uinous contractions. The Federal Government cannot do much to provide against a recurrence of existing evils. We must rely mainly on the patriotism and wisdom of the States, which should afford a real specie basis for our circulation. He ecommends the passage of a bankrupt law, applicable to all the banking institutions in the coun-

As Britain and the United States understand the Clayton and Bulwer treaty, in a sense directly opposite, he says the wisest course is to abrogate it by mutual consent and commence anew. Overtures for adjustment have been recently made by the British Government in a friendly spirit, which the President cordially reciprocates.

With all other Governments, except Spain, our relations are as peaceful as we could wish and it is the President's purpose to send out a minister with special instructions on all questions pending between the two Governments, with the determination to have them speedily and amicably adjusted if possible.

While our minister to China has been instructed to occupy a neutral position in regard to the existing hostilities at Canton, he will cordially co-operate with the British and French Ministers in all peaceful measures to secure by treaty stipulations those just concessions to commerce, which the Nations of the World have a right to expect and which China cannot be permitted to withhold. Our difficulties with New Granada are, it is to be noped, in a fair train of settlement in a manner just and honorable to both parties. The United States is more deeply interested than any other nation in preserving the freedom and security of all the communications across the Isthmus of Central America, including Panama. The President ecommends the passage of an act, authorizing the President in case of necessity to employ land and naval forces to carry into effect this guarantee of neutrality, and also similar legislation for the security of any other route across the Isthmus in which we may acquire an interest by treaty. The President condemns lawless expeditions fitted out against an independent Republic on this Continent. He commends the whole subject to the serious atention of Congress, believing that our duty and nterest as well as our National character requires that we should adopt such measures as will be effectual in restraining our citizens from committing such outrages. The President says that the Kansas Constitution-I Convention was not bound by the Kansas-Nebraska act to submit any other portion of the Constitution to election, except that which relates to the domestic institution of slavery. The election will be held under legitimate authority, and if any portion of the inhabitants refuse to vote, a fair opportunity to do so, having been presented, this will be their own voluntary act, and they alone will be responsible for the consequences. The President says the rebellion in Utah is the first which has existed in our Territories, and hu- MILLINERY ESTABLISHMENT manity requires that itshould be put down in such a manner as it shall be best, in order to do this, it will be necessary to raise four additional regiments of troops. He recommends the establishment of a Territorial Government for Arizonia, and commends to the friendly consideration of Congress, the subject of the Pacific Railroad, without finally committing himself to any particular route. He calls especial attention to the recommendation of the Secretary of the Navy in favor of constructing ten small steamers of light draught.

The President also refers to other subjects of Naional importance. House .- A spirited debate occurred on the proceeding of the caucus for the nomination of Public

CONTINUATION FROM PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE. In referring to the financial crisis, the President says if the facilities of well regulated banks cannot be enjoyed without the calamities which an excess of banks have hitherto inflicted upon us, it would be better to deprive the banks altogether of the power to issue paper currency contining them to their functions of discount and deposit. He says the Public lands should be disposed of for homes for hardy, independent, and industrious ritizens, desirous of cultivating the soil, in preference to squandering it upon objects of questionable constitutionality, violating the most important trust.

He deprecates speculation and recommends surveys only as fast as emigration demands it. He says if Congress grants alternate sections to States or companies the other sections, should be retained for actual settlers at a moderate price.

He condemns the making of presents to the Indians, preferring colonizing and educating them in habits of Industry.

He says the late financial resolution will be beneficial if it shall cause public and private conomy. He deprecates Congress crowling the most important bills into the last moment of the session, and he determines to approve of no bill unless time is afforded for its examination.

He asks Congress to exempt the President for two days prior to the adjournment of Congress, from the reception of any act of Congress for approval, House -There was considerable discusion relagiving, endeavored to procure his vote for Wendell tive to the Public Printer, during which Clemens charged that a person, whose name he declined for that office. Smith, of Va., offered a resolution for the appointment of a Committee to examine the subject of public Printing and postpone the election of Printer. Clingman preferred to appoint a Printer and then investigate the subject. The President's message coming in interrupted the debate. Afterwards Bocock asked for the election of Printer. Grow wished the enormous expenditures for books stopped. Without concluding the House a journed.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY. Thorn's Compound Etxract of Co-

paiba and Sarsaparllla, Possesses advantages not enjoyed by any other medicine for the cure of sexual diseases, which must with an enlightened public render it assuredly highly popular, and a desideratum long sought for in the medical world. It needs no confinement or change of diet. In its approved form, that of paste, it is entirely tasteless, and causes no unpleasant sensation to the patient. It has acquired the utmost fame in almost every part of Europe; it has been examined, approved of, and sanctioned by the faculty of medicine, and recommended by the most eminent of the profession. Prepared by J. W. THORN, Chemist, London, and for sale, wholesale and retail by Jons A. Tanna T & Co., Agents for the United States, 278 Greenwich street, New York.
